Cultural Connections

A THINK TANK TO ADVANCE EDUCATIONAL EQUITY

Cultural Connections is an equity think tank that brings scholar-practitioners together to share ideas and integrate best practices to promote and engage with stakeholders across the campus and the community. Through collective action based cross-cultural understanding, interpersonal and interprofessional connection, the purpose of the think tank network consists of thought partners are committed:

- to provide opportunities for knowledge sharing about educational equity and access on campus and in the community;
- to exchange information and ideas that will inspire collaboration;
- to develop cultural consciousness and understanding by connecting with people from different cultures through conversation and participation;
- to ensure educational equity for members of diverse racial, ethnic, cultural, and socioeconomic groups and communities.
