Title of the Program:

Minor in Asian Studies

Designation: (degree terminology)

Minor

Briefly describe the program proposal (new or change) and provide a justification:

We have several new course offerings and updates to add in to our minor requirements. Specifically,

1. Nationalism in Asia (ASIA 113) and Social Movements in Asia (ASIA 114) are new courses added into our curriculum. They are minor requirement options in the 'culminating core' category to provide further understanding of the region comparatively. We also want to provide students with a few options for the required upper division courses in the minor to ensure if a faculty is on leave or unable to offer other required courses, it does not create a barrier to students seeking to complete the minor.
2. Asian Politics (POLS 145) and Seminar in Recent Interpretations of Asian History (HIST 192C) were double listed in 'culminating core' and electives. They are now removed from the 'culminating core' and remain in the 'Pan-Asia elective'.
3. Asian Migration and Diaspora (ASIA 111) was moved to minor requirement options in the 'culminating core' category to provide further understanding of the region comparatively. This also creates more flexibility for the minor as students now only have one required class (ASIA 1) and the rest are more flexible to fit their interests.

Catalog Description:

Units required for Minor: 18, twelve of which must be in upper division

Program Description

The minor offers students a foundation to understand the dynamic changes across the region of East, South, and Southeast Asia through courses that compare and analyze the region in comparative perspective. Students will develop a framework to explore Asia from an interdisciplinary perspective, and may choose to focus their interests through elective offerings.

As defined by policy <http://www.csus.edu/umannual/acadaff/fsm00010.htm>, a change in units constitutes a substantive change to the program. If your changes constitute a substantive change, please refer back to the "Program Change Type" field above to ensure that "Substantive" is selected.
