

Traci Bean, M.A. CCC-SLP.

I am deeply passionate about telepractice across all disciplines and firmly believe that technology should be readily available to all. I believe that everyone deserves access to proper healthcare and special education services, no matter where they are located. Telepractice is one way to help ensure that this is a reality.

As part of my personal mission, I am committed to mentoring future Speech-Language Pathologists and reaching out to students in high school and community colleges to educate them about the advantages of a career in special education and therapeutic services. By doing so, I can contribute to the future of these professions.
