ANNUAL MEETING MAY 25

DINNER-THEATER PARTY

The annual meeting of the Emeritus Association will be held at the Goethe House on May 25, 1989. The main item of business will be the election of officers for 1989-90. A nominating committee of Jim Bradford, John Cox, and Wilma Krebs has nominated the following persons:

President - Marty Britton
Vice-President- Betty Austin
Secretary - Elgie Fuson
Treasurer - Milton Baum
(Letha Polenski, current President-Elect, has asked that someone be elected to replace her.)

The meeting will begin at noon with a light buffet, offered at a nominal charge. There may be other business of concern to the organization. Who knows?

LONG TERM HEALTH CARE

Please read the announcement concerning a meeting about long term health care that will be held at the Goethe House on Tuesday, April 11.

An evening of fun and entertainment for all emeritus faculty and their spouses and friends is reserved for Friday, May 5. Dinner will be in the new Faculty Dining Room beginning at 6:30 P.M. The menu will be one that fits the subject of the play that will follow. L.I.v.th 'Fat' is an award-winning farce about a black family who has fortune smile on it (or does it?) The family is just making ends meet when bank custodian-son David Lee Carter has an unseen bag of money drop into his dust rag during execution of a bank robbery.

What to do? Chase down the crooks and give it to them? The bank hasn't missed the money -- does he give it back and risk accusations of bank robbery himself? Does he take it home and start Livi,, 'Fat What happens after David Lee makes his decision?

Reservations are available for up to 50 people. The dinner will cost $9.95 per person. The play is $3.50 per person. Complete the form at the back of your EMERITUS NEWS and send it to Milton Baum no later than April 18.

IN MEMORIUM

MILDRED AGNES DAWSON

Mildred Agnes Dawson, emeritus professor of education at CSUS, died in Fairfield, Iowa on December 15, 1988 at the age of 91.

Born in Sumner, Iowa, Dr. Dawson received a B.A. from Iowa State College in 1922, an M.A. from the University of Chicago in 1928, and an Ed.D. from New York University in 1936.

Prior to joining the CSUS faculty in 1954, Dr. Dawson served variously as an elementary school teacher, critic teacher, research assistant, department chairperson, book editor, and professor in Iowa, Pennsylvania, Wyoming, Georgia, Tennessee, New York, and North Carolina. She assumed professor emeritus status at CSUS in 1965.

Dr. Dawson is well known for her role in the International Reading Association (president) and as a pro-author. Her LANGUAGE FOR DAILY USE. GRADES 2-6. was adopted in 36 states. In addition she authored or co-authored 31 books for teachers and young children.

THE NORMAL HEART

THE NORMAL HEART is the current Playwrights's Theater production. The play is about the founding of Gay Men's Health Crisis and the battles that followed. The group was formed during the early years of the AIDS health crisis to inform homosexual men of the

IDA E. MORRISON

Ida B. Morrison, emeritus professor of education, died in early March in Sacramento following a long period of ill health. After receiving her doctorate at Columbia University, she taught in the elementary school, including a notable period working in Indian schools in Nevada.

Joining the Sacramento State College faculty in 1950, Dr. Morrison influenced the teaching and lives of many hundreds of students before her retirement in 1970. Author of articles in professional journals and a textbook in kindergarten-primary education, she affected teaching methodology far beyond her local community. As a senior professor she served as mentor for faculty new to the campus. Dr. Morrison also served as a writer for WONDERTIME, a pioneering Sacramento television program for little children, from 1960 to 1962.

new scourge among them. The play has been called "a river of indignation and anger, fear and love" and a "fleshed-out, generously dramatized struggle in which warring ideologies do not fail to breathe, sweat, weep, bleed - be human,"

ALASKA: CRUISE THE INSIDE PASSAGE

Dr. Patty Gibson, lecturer in Anthropology at CSUS, will lead a travel_study cruise this summer of Alaska's Inside Passage. Cruise aboard the 500 passenger vessel, the 55 UNIVERSE, to view Alaska from the sea, from its breathtaking scenery of rugged mountains and virgin forests to its gigantic glaciers and exotic wildlife .

This cruise is unique in that several university specialists are 'in residence' to offer talks and lectures on the unique features of Alaska, ranging from its geology and wildlife to the various native cultures. Additionally, the ship holds the largest library afloat in the world, allowing passengers to browse through the large collection .

Two departure dates are scheduled for June 30 and July 28, 1989. The 17-day tour begins with two nights in Vancouver before boarding the ship with stops in Victoria, Ketchikan, Glacier Bay, Valdez, and several other places. Many side excursions are possible in each of the ports. The cost of the 17-day is $2070 per person based on inside double occupancy .

Dr. Gibson has led travel_study tours to Kenya for the past two years. She also led a research group to Nepal and has traveled extensively. As an anthropologist specializing in animal behavior, she hopes to provide additional insights in the Alaskan area. For further information, contact Dr. Gibson at the CSUS Anthropology Department, 278-6452.

volunteers Wanted

The Old Sacramento City Cemetary Association is seeking volunteers to serve as docents to lead tours of school groups and others visiting the City Cemetary near the corner of Broadway and Riverside Blvd. They also want persons who are interested in doing research and writing pertaining to the history of the cemetary. There is much interesting and important work to be done in connection with preserving the cemetary and compiling its history. Persons interested in working with the association should call Dr. Robert LaPerierre at 481-4525.
