Hei Fok, The PRIDE Center

Hei Fok is an excellent leader who prioritizes making everyone feel safe and welcome. Whenever I'm in the pride center, Hei makes me feel welcomed and like I belong. He also puts so much emphasis on educating allies and helping queer youth. He truly embodies what the Diversity and Inclusion award stands for.

Hei Fok has been there to support the PRIDE Team in every way he possibly could since his hiring as PRIDE Center Coordinator. He takes an interest in his employee's well-being and success and hosts consistent check-in meetings to see what our needs are. This year's PRIDE Fair and Queer Welcome would not have been the same without his support for my colleagues.

He was hired during a difficult time for the PRIDE Center, and he managed to organize the move to our new location and helped us to advocate for a more-accommodating space for our students. He constantly seeks feedback from students and staff alike. He is also putting incredible effort to help uplift the voices and actions of queer students of color, who are a significant portion of the queer community. Queer students of color are often overlooked due to systemic racism on and off campus.

He is also part of the LGBTQIA+ Advisory Committee for CSUS and has made the committee aware of various problematic aspects on campus (one such example is that he is advocating for the removal of the banners of two transphobic Greek Orgs that are being hung on campus). He is the embodiment of our phrase: "Love, not hate at Sac State"
